The Expressive Edge.

A long slab brings its own rhythm to the room. Natural variation becomes part of the composition, balanced by a base that gives the surface room to speak.

Live Edge / X-Pedestal

A Line Through The Landscape.

Resin and natural edges can make a surface feel like a landscape. Discuss color, transparency and the character of the slabs as part of the design.

Nature, Sculpted.

A richly figured live-edge slab meets a base of flowing wood and dark sculptural surfaces. The grain, natural edge and movement below give this table a character that belongs to the material itself.

YOUR NEXT PIECE STARTS WITH AN IDEA

Let's Make It Yours.

Share your room dimensions, seating needs and the natural details that speak to you. We will explore the wood, edge, base and proportions together, developing a table around the character of the material.
